McKesson Selects City of Moore for State-of-the Art Distribution Center

McKesson Corporation, a Fortune 100, U.S. based company that serves as a logistical and operational backbone of the healthcare system has selected Moore, Oklahoma as the location for a highly automated regional distribution facility at the North Moore Industrial Park. The development is located north of NE 27th street, between the I-35 access road and Pole Rd.

The 330,000-square-foot facility will serve as a regional pharmaceutical distribution hub, combining digitally enabled logistics, state of the art automation, precision inventory management, and expanded cold chain capacity, helping ensure critical medicines reach customers safely and efficiently. This project represents:

- The first large-scale industrial investment in the North Moore Industrial Park with a total capital investment of $179 million.
- A defining moment for City leadership and Moore's evolution as a major Cleveland County employment center and over 200 jobs.
- A successful milestone in Cleveland County's transition to a unified, countywide economic development strategy.

The City of Moore played the leading role in ensuring the site was competitive at a national level. "We made intentional, strategic investments to ensure this site could compete with larger metro markets," said Mark Hamm, Mayor of Moore. "Through infrastructure planning and the creation of a Tax Increment Financing district, we delivered a site that meets the expectations of a company in the top 10 on the Fortune 100 list. McKesson's decision validates the hard work of City leadership led by Assistant City Manager Deidre Ebrey"

"This is a platform investment," said District 1 County Commissioner Rod Cleveland. "When a company like McKesson selects your community, it reduces perceived risk for every company that follows. This project creates momentum and we intend to build on it."

McKesson is under construction and expects to open in Spring of '29.
